Why Mrs. Kempster Desires to Gain a Divorce.

Why Mrs. Kempster Desires to Gain a Divorce.

OSHKOSH, Wis., April 29.—Mrs. Marion B. Kempton, wife of the Senator, is

B. Kempster, wife of the Superintendent of the Northern Hospital for the Insane has brought suit against her husband for divorce. The couple have not lived together for a year. The papers were filed Saturday night, but the news did not be come known until to-day. Dr. Kempster is one of the officers of the National Asso-elation of Insane Asylum Superintendents, and is regarded as an expert. He was one of the witnesses in the Guiteau case. He is a New Yorker, and came here twelve years ago. His wife in her complaint alleges that he has been in climate with one of the most prominent young society ladies of Osh.

kosh, a daughter of a prominent State politician. It is alleged that the pretense was that she was being professionally attended by Dr. Kampster. There are also charges of harsh and cruel treatment, and a general incompatibility of temper.

is expected that a number of family skeletons will be unearched during the trial.

It is also rumored that serious charges will be preferred against his 15 associates.

will be preferred against Dr. Kempster as Superintendent of the Insane Asylum. The reasons have not been stated.

The papers have not been served, owing to the absence of the Doctor, who is now on a lecturing tour.

A Telegrapher's Error.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 30.—Social chr-

cles of Fulton, twenty-four miles from here, are shaken by a charge of bigamy, brought against Wm. E. Waugh, the twenty-three-year-old son of the village president. He is in charge of the Western Union telegraph there. Five years ago he married Della Roberts, of Seneca Falls. Recently Waugh began drinking hard and absenting himself from home. It is now alleged that during his sojourn at a hotel he married

Mrs. Alger, a dashing widow. Waugh has been arrested. He does not deny the man-riage with Mrs. Alger, but says he was intoxicated, and did not know what he was doing. Mrs. Alger insists that Waugh represented himself as unmarried. The

SYRACUSE SENSATION.

A Prominent Physician Put in Bad Shape.

The Disappearance of a Young Girl and Her Sad Sequel—Hitter Publishes Letter From an Injured Parent.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 20.—On April 11 Dell Robie, one of the best known ladies in this city, disappeared. It was said that she had eloped with a commercial traveler. Subsequently it was telegraphed from Bradford, Pa., that she was in a house of ill-repute there. On April 18 she returned and denied the stories. She said she went to Buffalo alone, and thence to Bradford, where she was taken with scarlet fever and was in an infirmary. About the time of her return it was reported that her father was looking for a commercial traveler, who, he said, had betrayed his girl, and that he would shoot him on sight. The subject, which was almost forgotten, has just been revived by the following letter which appeared in the Herald:

"To M. H. Brown, Eye and Ear Doctor, Syracuse, N. Y."

"Sir: I hereby charge you with the ruin of my daughter, under circumstances and in a manner that a fiend from hell would hardly dare attempt. I charge you, after having become acquainted with my daughter at Fort Root, O. A. R. picnic, at Fish Creek, last summer, when you approached her and was received as an acquaintance, under the guise of an honorable man, with taking my child, when under seventeen years of age, in your carriage, and driving to a hotel out of the city, and there giving her liquor, and, while under the influence of the stuff, you then accomplished her ruin. I charge you with enticing young girls into your office for immoral purposes. I charge you, after driving your divorced wife to a house of ill fame, with visiting her and taking money as the price of her shame, charge you with being a baseless libertine and a black-hearted scoundrel. Proofs of all these charges will be promptly furnished should you see fit to demand it. It is only to fully expose your villainy and to put others on their guard against you that I make more public a disgrace that has filled one house, at least, with great sorrow."

CHARLES BROWN.

Mr. Brown is one of the most prominent physicians here. The police expect blood and soil are watching Robie and Brown closely.

Troubles of a Poor Princess.
LONDON, April 22.—While the newspapers are filled with accounts of all the grand doings over the marriage of the Danish, "Memoirs" of the Princess Alice throw a painful light on the small miseries of the great.

When first she was married her dining-room was so small and stuffy that she could not invite any one to dinner, and when she had her first child the Queen had to send the baby linen, and pay for the doctor. She could not visit her mother, nor keep a governess, and when the Emperor of Russia paid her the compliment of a visit she was almost beside herself at the expense of entertaining him.

The Queen had at last to come to her rescue by spending £25,000 on a new palace, and as the English nation all the time was giving her £1,000 a year, besides a dowry of £20,000, the German Princess can not have contributed much to the domestic expenses.

An Authority on the Greely Expedition.
LONDON, April 22.—The Standard to-day discusses the Greely Relief Expedition in an elaborate article. It thinks the American naval authorities show meagre knowledge of Arctic exploration and expects that some of the published orders must, from their crudity, be altered before the ships sail. It condones the decision to place the Alert at Littleton Island. It believes that the Greely party, if it reached Cape Sabine in boats, would remain there. It concludes that on the whole he is probably at this moment safe and well at Lady Franklin Bay, and possibly has even reached Umanvik. The article bears internal evidence of being prepared by a high Arctic authority.
